ELECTION OF CHAPTER REPRESENTATIVES ONTO THE BOARD

The Association of South African Quantity Surveyors has adopted an outward looking policy with the objective of positioning the Quantity Surveying profession at the forefront of the construction industry. The men and women who represent our profession at Board level should be perceived as dynamic, business-orientated, adaptable, able to accept challenge and capable of sharing a vision of the future of our profession in a country where rapid change is the norm.

Our future Presidents must have the qualities and mindset necessary to accept a role which includes high visibility within the construction industry and amongst policymakers in South Africa. Remember that our President portrays the image of the entire profession.

By the same token, the President deserves the full support of a Board which is like-minded, capable and supportive since a combination of skills and attributes is needed to ensure the success of any organisation.

Our Presidents and Board members will need to be:

- Pro-active and dynamic
- Utilise change as a mechanism for growth and opportunity
- Outward looking and innovative
- Business orientated
- Sensitive and non-discriminatory in the workplace

Please consider these factors carefully when nominating your Chapter Representative candidate. Your nominee may be the future President.
