

FACULTY OF ENGINEERING AND THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT (FEBE)

SCHOOL OF CONSTRUCTION ECONOMICS & MANAGEMENT

HEADSHIP

The University is seeking a suitably qualified person to Head the School of Construction Economics & Management. The School which combines the professional disciplines of Construction Management, Property Studies and Quantity Surveying, has a large and vibrant undergraduate enrolment and growing post-graduate enrolment in a variety of specialised fields. Located in the heart of Johannesburg, one of Africa's multicultural cities, the University and the School provide exciting environments for learning, teaching and research.

QUALIFICATIONS: Applicants should have completed a PhD and must provide evidence of significant professional and/or scholarly achievements. Professional registration is an advantage. The successful appointee will be of high national and international standing, possess advanced managerial skills and demonstrate ability to co-ordinate the academic and professional vision of the constituent disciplines.

REQUIREMENTS: The Head would be expected to provide the academic vision and leadership to the School; establish and maintain a reputation of excellence within the University and in the wider educational context by offering nationally and internationally accredited programmes; lead and manage. The successful candidate will be responsible for the School meeting its and the Faculty's strategic goals; participate in University-wide decision-making processes required in achieving the University's strategic goals; and raise external funding and support for special projects within the School.

The appointment will commence mid-2010. The standard contractual period of employment is 5 years, after which the candidate may seek another term or be integrated into a senior teaching and research position in the School. If the appointee is an existing member of the permanent staff s/he would revert to her/his previous academic position. Remuneration will be appropriate to the seniority of the post and will be negotiated with the successful individual.
